

The following activities and courses are available to you and your family during your Camp Getaway. Each one-hour session will be led by a knowledgeable Camp Friedenswald guide, Amy Huser or Skye McKinnell. Cost = $40 per activity. Indicate your interest on your inquiry form.

Special health & safety precautions: Staff and participants will wear masks throughout the duration of the activity while maintaining a minimum of 6' physical distance outdoors. You elect whether or not another cabin/family will join you. We will not combine you with another group.

Guided nature activities

Rare habitats and wild edibles hike - Learn about the habitats present at Camp Friedenswald, and the way one of them, a prairie fen, hosts the federally endangered Mitchell's satyr butterfly. Learn to know (and taste!) some edible plants growing naturally in our peaceful woods.

Night hike - Experience the beauty of the night and some special characteristics about energy and the dark.

Geology and soils exploration – Find out more about the way rocks and soil tell us about the history and ecology of a place. Conduct an experiment on the different types of soils found here at Camp.

Aquatic small world exploration – Dip for macroinvertebrates in the fen, learn about the crucial role they play in the ecosystem, and use your findings to determine the quality of the water here at Camp Friedenswald.

Guided canoeing session - Confused by the C stroke? J stroke? Sign up for this session to learn all about canoes before going on your own canoeing adventure!

Archery - Take your aim and have fun practicing the art of archery!

Fire building - Discuss fire and energy and learn to build your own fire with flint and steel. Enjoy s'mores cooked over the fire to celebrate!
